

Myk2025

59th Scientific Conference of the German speaking Mycological Society (DMykG) e.V.

4–6 September | Cologne

Submit your research to MYK 2025!

We invite you to actively participate by submitting your latest research findings. Accepted abstracts will be featured as oral or poster presentations, offering you the opportunity to present your work to an expert audience and engage with leading researchers in the field.

Don't miss this chance to contribute to the scientific programme! All topics and submission guidelines can be found on the submission page.

Abstract submission deadline: 30 April 2025

Selected posters will also be invited for a mini talk as part of a Lightning Talk Session, providing an additional opportunity to highlight your research.
